

INTERRUPTED SUPPLY CHAINS

BRUCE LAMBERT

FUTURE PREDICTIONS

- “People all over the world will have to purchase a new calendar within the next twelve months”
- Something Will Disrupt Supply Chains...

WHAT SOMETHINGS?

- Weather Events
- Political Decisions
- Man-made actions

It seems:

In a mature/fragile system, asymmetric risks are becoming a new norm!

SESSION OUTLINE

- Locks and Dams Closure
- Atlanta I-85 Fire/Collapse
- Louisiana's Developing Supply Chain Response

LOCK AND DAMS

Waterway supply chains are critical links in US economy

System in need of repair/funding

System unreliably concerns

When system becomes unavailable

Goes onto what mode?

Pittsburgh

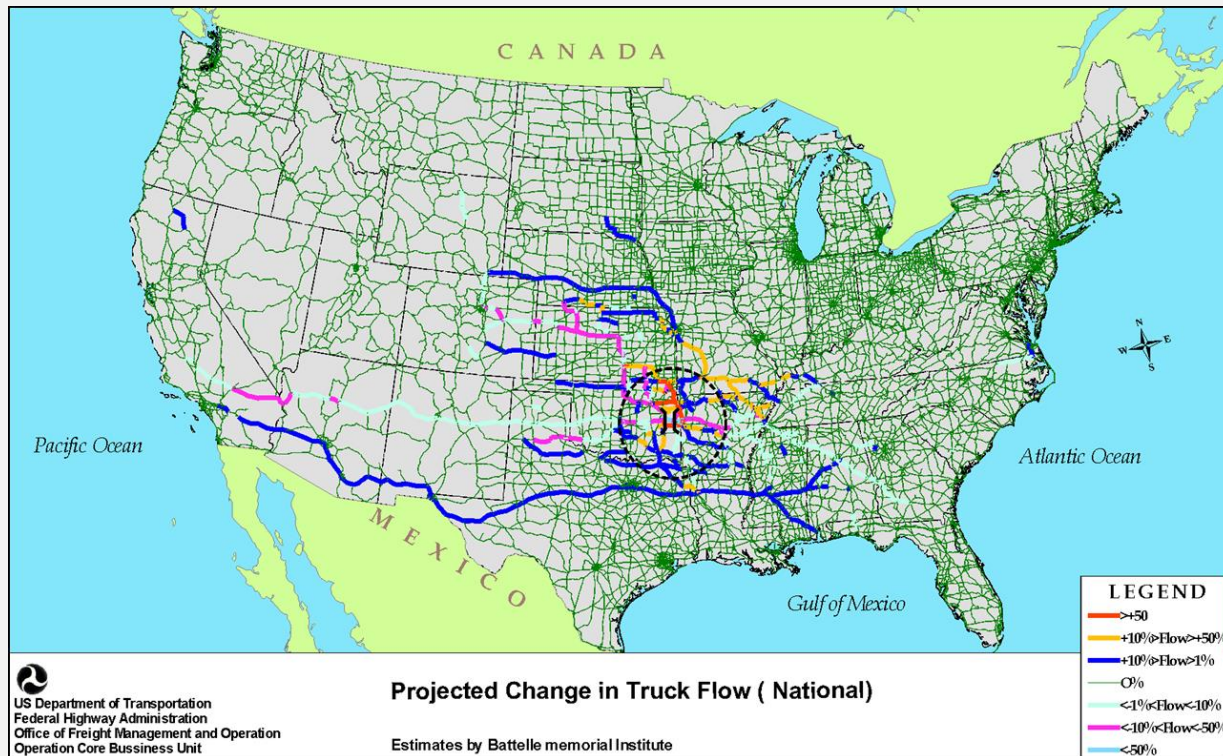

The Pinnacles

COMMODITY FLOWS AFFECTED BY THE I-40 BRIDGE COLLAPSE AT WEBBERS FALLS, OKLAHOMA: A PRELIMINARY ASSESSMENT

Draft: May 28, 2002

PROJECTED NATIONAL TRUCK FLOW CHANGES

EVOLUTION OF INFRASTRUCTURE

- Seen as competitive asset
- Roughly 1/3 of most state's economy – freight dependent
- State's seek retain/attract prosperity with sound infrastructure investments and operational strategies
- The system is multmodal
- Need to assess/respond to disruptions in a collaborative framework
